Print Resources for Teachers
Unit Content

- pp. 3-25: “Chicago” (original publication 1875 in Scribner’s Monthly)
- pp. 133-145: “De Kids Wot Works at Night” by W. Hard (original publication 1908)
- pp. 171-187: “Chicago: Before the Fire, after the Fire, and Today” by M.E. Stone (original publication 1895 in Scribner’s Monthly)
- pp. 301-319: “The University of Chicago” by R. Herrick (original publication 1895 in Scribner’s Monthly)
- pp. 375-394: “The Making of the White City” by H.C. Bunner (original publication 1892 in Scribner’s Monthly)
- pp. 397-409: “The First Families of Chicago: Pioneer Women of the West” by A.C. Laut (original publication 1907)

Kogan, R. (2004, February 8). Our fair (and foul) city: The Columbian Exposition gave Chicago a chance to show that it rated a prominent place on the world stage, but a decade later our town is still struggling to clean up its act. Chicago Tribune, Section 10 (Chicago Tribune Magazine), pp. 14-21, 32-34.

- pp. 174-175: “The New Colossus” by Emma Lazarus (original publication 1883)
- pp. 179-182: “What Does the Working Man Want?” by Samuel Gompers (original publication 1890)
- pp. 211-213: “The Battle with the Slum” by Jacob Riis (original publication 1902)

